HUGE BOMB UNEARTHED IN CEMETERY

Intended to Destroy Funeral
Cortege of Assassinated
Cuban Leader

FOUR MEN ARRESTED
BY HAVANA POLICE

HAVANA, Sept. 29.—The body of the President of the Senate, Dr. Clemente Vazquez Bello, was taken to Santa Clara, instead of to Colon Cemetery, for burial, when police asserted they had uncovered a huge dynamite bomb, capable of inflicting wholesale death, in Colon Cemetery, near the spot where it was originally reported that Dr. Bello would be buried.

Explosive experts said they had uncovered twenty-three separate mines containing more than 300 pounds of dynamite, all controlled by an electrical switch hidden eight blocks away in a Chinese cemetery. This set-up was sufficient to blow the entire funeral cortege to death, the experts declared.

FOUR ARRESTED
The office of the Secretary of the Interior, Dr. Octavio Zubizarreta, tonight announced the arrest of four men who were suspected of the assassination of Dr. Bello, the first to die in an outbreak of political violence that ended the lives of four other political leaders this week. The police previously had arrested Luis Arturo Bello, son of Jorge Bello, registrar of deeds of Havana, and it was understood Bello gave information that led to the arrest of the others. Names were withheld "pending the arrest of accomplices."

MEANWHILE CARLOS MANUEL DE LA CRUZ, leader of the Opposition to President Machado in the Cuban House of Representatives, asked for passports today as a sequel to the political unrest of Tuesday.

CAPTURE FORT IN CHACO AREA

Great Rejoicing in Bolivian Capital When News of Victory Reaches City

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Sept. 29.—After a twenty-day battle, the longest and bloodiest in the history of the fifty-year dispute over the Gran Chaco territory, the Paraguayan Government announced today its assault troops had captured Fort Boqueron.

Although this fort is no more important than a score of other wilderness outposts, even going unrecognized by most map makers until Bolivia captured it from Paraguay last August, its recapture has been one of the great goals of the Paraguayan army.

Casualties were heavy because both sides constructed concrete trenches and machine-gun nests in the vicinity. Casualties among the 500 defenders of the fort were increased by the lack of pure water.

CAUSE FOR REJOICING
Announcement of the capture set Asuncion wild. Society women and laborers snatched up flags and, locking arms, followed bands to the presidential palace.

"Our victory confirms Paraguay's title to the Gran Chaco, which we discovered, explored and civilized," a Government spokesman said.

DENIAL BY INFERENCE
LA PLAZA, Bolivia, Sept. 29 (AP).—Inferentially denying that Paraguay had captured Fort Boqueron, the Bolivian general staff today issued a communique, saying the fort "continues to be the principal Paraguayan objective, the attack having intensified since Tuesday, with heavy artillery fire."

GERMAN AVIATORS RESUME FLIGHT

MANILA, Sept. 30.—Continuing their flight around the world, Captain Wolfgang von Gronau and three other German aviators took off at 7:50 a.m. today (4:30 p.m. Friday, E.S.T.), for Zamboanga, Island of Mindanao, Southern Philippines. The flight of 350 miles will take them over numerous islands of the Philippine group.

Thence they plan to soar 350 miles over the Sulu Sea to Borneo. The fliers, who arrived Tuesday at Hongkong, expect to return to Germany late in October.

CIVIC TAXES POURING IN

Two Cashiers Handle Rush
—Tallying of Receipts
Two Days Behind

The rush to pay civic taxes before the penalty comes into effect on Monday assumed larger proportions yesterday when two cashiers were thrown into the task of receiving payments to meet the steady flow of ratepayers who have responded to the appeal made by Mayor David Leeming and Alderman P. R. Brown, chairman of the finance committee.

Tabulations of receipts are running two days behind so that clerks, working frantically to catch up on the collections, were unable to give any accurate information as to the exact amount collected on current taxes.

CASH RECEIPTS
Up to September 25, however, a total of $94,417.21 had been collected on current taxes. Since then a total of $114,299 in cash and cheques have been taken in by the treasury department. This figure does not include yesterday, for which only a rough estimate is given.

With two cashiers handling the receipts yesterday, it is estimated that $55,000 was collected. A portion of these receipts, however, are for interest and other payments, so

Baldwin Appointed Lord Privy Seal in Cabinet Shake-Up

Conservative Strength in National Ministry Increased From 11 to 13—Labor Supporters of Government Reaffirm Confidence in Leader

LONDON, Sept. 29 (CP).—The great Cabinet shake-up caused by disagreement over the policies formulated at the Imperial Economic Conference was completed today. The net result is that the Cabinet is reduced from twenty members to nineteen. National Laborites and National Liberals each find their representation cut from four to three ministers; Conservatives increased from eleven to thirteen.

MADE LORD PRIVY SEAL
Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, who has been Lord President of the Council, will also take over the portfolio of Lord Privy Seal, it was announced late today. Incidentally, a saving of $4,000 per annum is effected. Mr. Baldwin replaces fiery Viscount Snowden, who broke up a long-standing partnership with the Prime Minister in adhering to his opposition to the legislation that will be necessary to carry out the Ottawa agreements.

The poets of the two other Cabinet ministers who had resigned were filled yesterday, and today the Prime Minister instituted a general shake-up in the ranks of junior ministers. Some of these posts still remain unfilled.

COMPENSATES FOR LOSS
Appointment of Major L. Hore-Belisha, a National Liberal, as Financial Secretary to the Treasury, replacing Major W. E. Elliott, who becomes Minister of Agriculture, is undoubtedly intended to compensate the Liberals for the loss of the Home Secretaryship, which Sir Herbert Samuel had filled since the

ARMY OFFICER PASSES AWAY

Col. James S. Harvey Succumbs to Illness Caused by War Disability

Colonel James Swan Harvey, aged sixty years, of Knapp Island, passed away at the St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday after a prolonged illness due to war service. He is survived by his widow, one son, R. R. Harvey, Victoria barrister, and a sister, Mrs. M. Holme-Sumner, residing in England.

Born in Nanaimo on May 26, 1872, Colonel Harvey completed his education in the Province of Ontario, graduating from the Trinity College School at Port Hope.

For three years Colonel Harvey was associated with his uncle, a business in Scotland, and during that time joined the Fourth Battalion of the Cameronians, attaining the rank of captain.

On his return here, he rejoined the army at the outbreak of war and served overseas, receiving a commission in 1914 as lieutenant with the 50th Highlanders, being attached to the 30th Battalion.

He left Victoria in advance of the depot Military District No. 11, in connection with a draft of 250 men for France as reinforcements for the Princess Pals. He contracted trench fever during his service, and was invalided back to Canada in 1915.

On his return he was given command of Equilibrium Military Hospital, which has been an invalid, from that time until demobilization was in charge of all hospitals for returned soldiers throughout British Columbia, until 1918 when this was taken over by the Canadian Army Medical Corps. He subsequently volunteered for service in Siberia but was not accepted owing to the condition of his health, so was given command of district hospital in Nanaimo, where he was in charge of all demobilization in British Columbia and the Yukon.

For the last eight years Colonel Harvey has been an invalid, frequently undergoing treatment for disabilities caused by his service overseas, and his death was not unexpected.

The funeral service will be held at St. John's Church at 10 a.m. Saturday. Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick officiating. The cortege will leave Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel at 9:45 a.m. Interment will be made in Nanaimo. Where the grave service will be held at 3 p.m.

KILLED BY EXPLOSION
IN OWN PARKED CAR

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 29.—Two men, who police said they believed were on a death-dealing mission, were killed today as the result of an explosion in their parked automobile in West Scranton.

The explosion caused considerable damage in the neighborhood and injured four persons.

Dominions Reduced Their Tariffs States Minister

LONDON, Sept. 29 (CP).—"It is premature and unfair to judge the Ottawa trade agreements until both sides of the question have been heard," writes Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, in a letter to his constituents in St. Ives, Cornwall, giving reasons why he remained in the Cabinet. Only Three Survive When Portland Ship Sinks Off Aleutians

Cadet and Two Sailors From Nevada's Company
Taken Off Small Island Following Disaster
—Heroic Work Done by Rescue Crews
of American and Japanese Vessels

President Madison Is Coming
To Victoria With Survivors

SEATTLE, Sept. 29.—Three men, only survivors of a crew of thirty-five of the ill-fated freighter Nevada, were safely aboard a rescue vessel in the far north Pacific tonight, saved from the death which had overtaken their companions in a "graveyard" for lost ships.

After many hours, in which small boats of the Oregon Maru, a Japanese freighter, and the President Madison, had fought through high seas to reach the rocky shores of Amatignak Island, which the survivors had reached, a laconic radio message from the President Madison told of their rescue.

"Have rescued three, only survivors of Nevada. Now hoisting boats. Details later," it read.

Within a short time another message said the Madison had left the scene, headed for Victoria, its dramatic rescue work, after a 300-mile overnight dash through stormy weather, completed.

NOTIFIED HOME

The three men rescued were: James Phorsen, cadet, who asked that Mrs. E. Sturgeon, 281 Shenandoah Avenue, Portland, Ore., be notified; Fritz Dewall, able-bodied seaman, no address, and Lucena N. Decaney, ordinary seaman, Risal, Manila, P.I.

In an additional message, the President Madison confirmed the loss of the remaining officers and crew of the stricken Nevada.

"Rest of crew drowned. The rescue work by our officers and crew was magnificent. (Signed) Healy," it read. The message was sent to the American Mail Lines, owners of the President Madison, with headquarters here.

Back of the rescue work, however, began late two nights ago when the Oregon Maru picked up an SOS message, were hours of searching the ocean for the Japan-bound freighter, which left Portland on September 16, with a general cargo for Japan, and hours of standing by, helpless to aid, with the fate of the crew of the Nevada uncertain.

RESCUERS HURT
Within a few hours after first reaching the Nevada, late yesterday afternoon, the Oregon Maru lost one small boat in the rough seas and hurt several members of the crew. Previously the Oregon Maru had searched the sea where the Nevada had reported its last previous position in its SOS, but not found the vessel, but finally locating it wrecked on the island.

While the Oregon Maru stood by, unable to give further aid, and seeing the Nevada break into pieces, the President Madison was racing to a scene. It arrived early this morning, after twelve hours.

British Columbia Trade Mission Will Leave for Britain

Industries Seek Cabinet Representation at Head of Delegation to Follow Up Conference Benefits at London, With Watching Brief

BRITISH Columbia industries, with arrangements already made to have representatives in London, England, when anti-dumping and other tariff regulations are framed to carry out the spirit of the Imperial Economic Conference, asked the Government yesterday to put a Cabinet minister at the head of the trade mission which will leave shortly.

The request was preferred before Hon. N. S. Loughheed (chairman), Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe and Hon. William Atkinson, members of the cabinet on the market and commission committee, and will go to the Provincial Executive shortly.

IS NOT ELIGIBLE
Though Mr. Loughheed was named by delegates who made the request, the Minister of Lands stated last evening that it would be impossible for him to leave the province at this time, due to pressure of departmental affairs in connection with land settlement and other Provincial matters.

Delegates expressed the view that while it was only fair to assume that the spirit of the Ottawa conference would be carried out, the issue of dumping legislation was of such great importance to the Province that major industries here desired to be on the ground while tariff schedules are being drafted to assist in any way possible in explaining the British Columbia viewpoint.

Noted Canadian Soldier Is Dead

MAJOR V. de Billa Thibodeau, well known in Canadian military circles, died at his home here today, aged sixty.

Major Thibodeau went to Western Canada in 1906, living near Edmonton, where he raised the 23rd Infantry Battalion during the war, being second-in-command. He returned to Montreal, his birthplace, three years ago.

Inspector Blakeney, informed by Boulter that Sydney A. Rafuse and Freckleton had conspired to rob the bank, led a detachment of his own men and city police to

TO ALLOCATE RELIEF COSTS

Hon. J. W. Jones Says Definite Appropriations Will Be Fixed

Hon. J. W. Jones confirmed yesterday the fact that the Government has decided upon the principle of allocating relief up to municipal and other areas this year, as was done under Dominion and Provincial control in 1930. No appointment, he said, had yet been made of a director of relief and two supervisors, and final details of the whole plan have yet to be arranged.

The policy to be followed, it is expected, will be along the lines already discussed with the municipalities, at the conference this week with the executive of the union, and will include a fixed appropriation for each centre, after its needs have been ascertained. The provincial treasury will finance provincial commitments under the plan of $1,500,000 set aside for relief in the current fiscal year, to March 31, 1933.

MUST BEAR SHARE
 Special arrangements may have to be made in regard to a strictly limited number of municipalities which cannot afford to finance further relief assistance.

The union has been asked to report on such cases, so that representations may be submitted to the Government.

Little China Is Observing Birth Of Confucius

It was a festive occasion in Little China yesterday, when children and adults celebrated the 2200th anniversary of the birth of Confucius.

Tongs decorated their headquarters in honor of the occasion, while the Chinese school on Fisgard Street was gaily decked in colored bunting.

Semi-religious exercises were held in the Chinese school, while in the homes there were happy family gatherings.

Federal authorities in the matter. This, it was stressed, must not be taken as an invitation for municipalities to shut down on relief votes, because Federal and provincial assistance is conditional on each centre bearing, where it can, a proportion of the costs involved.

POLICY TO BE ADOPTED
 The policy to be followed, it is expected, will be a minimum of direct relief, where needed, and absence of any new works. Married men will be cared for by the two Governments and the municipalities on a shared basis, the exact proportion each agency is to pay has not yet been determined, but resting on an equal division of the costs. Single men and transients will be provided for in camps, with the possibility that catering in such cases may be thrown open to public tender.

There is still room for hope that the Dominion may accede to the requests of the Western Relief Conference and increase its share of municipal costs from one-third to a higher ratio. Land settlement will also be part of the plan.

EGYPTOLOGIST COMING TODAY

S. R. K. Glanville, of British Museum Staff, Will Lecture Monday Night

The remarkable souvenirs of ancient Egyptian culture unearthed within recent years by the discovery of Tut-Ankhamen's tomb have given fresh interest to Egyptian antiquities. Victoria, consequently, will undoubtedly welcome with keen pleasure the opportunity to hear first hand from S. R. K. Glanville, M.A., assistant keeper of the Egyptian and Assyrian antiquities at the British Museum, something about the marvelous treasures of which he has charge and of the ancient civilization which they reflect.

Mr. Glanville, who is touring Canada under the auspices of the National Council of Education, will arrive here this afternoon, and has a number of important lecture engagements while here. At 3:30 o'clock today he will give a lecture to the students of Victoria High School; on Sunday evening he will speak at St. Mary's Church on "Testament"; and on Monday evening, at the Empress Hotel, under the auspices of the National Council of Education, he will give a public illustrated lecture on "The British Museum and its Relation to Ancient Egypt and Assyria." Dr. T. A. Rickard, assistant keeper of the Egyptian and Assyrian antiquities, will be in the chair.

He will talk about the museum as a whole, discussing its history, buildings and mechanism, and also describe some of the outstanding treasures of the collection.

TO BE BURIED TODAY

The funeral service for William Tyler will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, Rev. A. deB. Owen officiating. Interment will be made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

DESCRIBES TRIP TO OLD COUNTRY

Reginald Hayward, M.P., is Guest Speaker at Rotary Club Luncheon

The 111 feeling in Ireland against the British Empire, as evidenced at the Eucharistic Congress in Dublin, was described by Reginald Hayward, M.P., during the course of an address to members of the Rotary Club yesterday on his recent tour to the Old Country.

At the conference, Mr. Hayward said, the Union Jack was not allowed to be flown, and in one or two instances, where proprietors endeavored to raise it, a committee of Republicans tore it down.

BEAUTIFUL IMPRESSIONS

The beautiful impressions which a visitor gets when catching first sight of Ireland and Scotland were described by the speaker. The hills of these two countries represented a checker board from a distance, with their well-cultivated gardens and beautifully-kept hedges.

The beauties of historical points in Scotland also impressed Mr. Hayward, who visited a number of famous spots in the British Isles. On arriving in London, he was greatly impressed with the optimism which is evident among the English people. One never hears a complaint of stressing times or of heavy imposition of taxes, he said.

FUNERAL SERVICE

Funeral services will be held today for Mrs. Mary Ann Muldoon, whose death occurred here on September 27. Leaving Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel at 8:55 o'clock, the cortege will proceed to St. Andrew's Cathedral, where mass for the repose of the soul will be celebrated at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

LAST RITES TODAY

The funeral of Mrs. Nellie Higon, 78, who passed away September 28, will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the chapel of the Sands Mortuary Limited. Rev. O. L. Jull will officiate and interment will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

SASKATCHEWAN'S EXAMPLE

Few provinces of the Dominion have faced adverse economic conditions of the past few years more courageously and with better success than Saskatchewan. Mr. W. L. McTavish, the editor of The Winnipeg Tribune, has made an estimate of what has been done and there is everything encouraging for the Canadian West as a whole in his findings. Only last year Saskatchewan had to appeal to the Dominion Government for assistance. Last Winter it was necessary to spend $18,000,000 for relief. During the coming Winter the estimate of what will be required is only $1,000,000. This year Government seed was required for 8,000,000 acres, whereas the estimate of the requirement for next Spring only affects 100,000 acres.

The most comforting fact of all is the very substantial reduction in the number of families requiring assistance. Last Winter no fewer than 57,000 families had to be helped. The estimate for the coming Winter is only 9,000 families. In other words, Saskatchewan is conquering depression, and by the method of reducing unemployment. What that province has been able to do is an evidence of the unconquerable spirit of the West. Conditions are obviously improving, and already there is noticeable a change in the mentality of the people. They are realizing that conditions which they have been responsible for creating can also be overcome by themselves when they have the courage to face the facts.

AN ACT OF DESERTION

The resignation of Liberal Ministers from Britain's National Government appears to have come as a surprise to all well-informed opinion in that country. The act of resignation came about because the intra-Party agreements reached at Ottawa were regarded as "the crowning offence to Liberal principles." At the time of the introduction of the Import Duties Bill a plea was made to the Liberal Ministers to resign in protest. They resisted it then, although the legislation committed Britain to tariffs. On the present occasion the case for abandoning the National Government is by no means so strong, but the Liberals have taken the plunge. The agreements reached at Ottawa are, no doubt, offensive to British free traders. They are not, however, as offensive as the Import Duties legislation which the ex-Liberal Ministers swallowed.

The interpretation placed by Sir Herbert Samuel and his colleagues on the agreements of the Imperial Conference is difficult to understand. Those agreements have been described by Mr. Ramsay MacDonald as an effort "to increase the mutual opportunities for trade throughout the Empire and, thus, to create free trade conditions over a large area of the world." This was a clear pronouncement that Mr. MacDonald considers the agreements reached at Ottawa constitute a reason for continued cooperation among constituent elements of the National Government. His hope in this particular has been blighted, but Mr. MacDonald is maintaining the view that he has cut himself free from party ties. His Government is to be maintained, and there has been little delay in the appointment of successors to the posts held by the Ministers who have resigned.

It is difficult to see how the Liberals can obtain any credit in the bookkeeping of public opinion by their action. The reasons which led to their inclusion in the National Government and their continuance there, in the face of policies with which they disagreed, still exist. The organizing of tariffs, as decreed by the agreements reached at Ottawa, were foreseen months ago. Once having put their hands to the plough the Liberals should not have turned back. The pretext they sought was slim enough. They have not played the part of statesmen, and it is conceivable that they have injured the cause of Liberalism. Most assuredly they have created a new rift between themselves and the National Liberals who remain in the British Cabinet and continue to acknowledge the leadership of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald.

WIRELESS INTERFERENCE

The British Post Office has been demonstrating a device which costs only 18s. 6d. and is used to overcome interference with broadcast reception. In Britain it appears more steps have been taken than in this country in tracing the causes of interference with broadcast reception and providing the cure. The Postmaster-General, Sir Kingsley Wood, in speaking at the National Radio Exhibition at Olympia pointed out that the high amplification of modern wireless receivers and the more extensive use of electricity for domestic and industrial purposes have brought their problems into the home of nearly everyone. The British Post Office is doing what is possible to solve the trouble.

Sir Kingsley Wood says such things as flashing advertisements, signs, neon signs, refrigerators, mercury arc rectifiers, vacuum cleaners, battery-charging rectifiers, street traffic signals, electric fans, tramway and trolley omnibus systems, etc., all interfere with reception. For clearing up the trouble it is desirable to have the sympathetic interest of electrical and manufacturing undertakings in the suppression of what is a nuisance to radio listeners. The British Post Office is dealing with more than 10,000 complaints of interference yearly. It has now devised a remedial apparatus, on an experimental basis, for the purpose of "demonstrating to complainants and the owners of offending apparatus that a cure is possible." With this good results have been secured. It is necessary, however, under governmental supervision, to have all round co-operation with the common end in view, namely, "the reception of broadcast programmes on excellent radio sets without interference from other electrical apparatus."

UNITED CHURCH MODERATOR

In the election of Rev. T. Albert Moore, D.D., to the moderatorship of the General Council of the United Church of Canada, this communion has signally honored a leader distinguished by a long record of exceptionally efficient service. As head of the department of social service and evangelism of the former Methodist Church, and then for almost twenty years the church's secretary, Dr. Moore, at the union in 1925, was the logical appointee to this office in the larger body. In the administrative unification following union he has done yeoman service. A strong and wise speaker, he has ably represented his church on various occasions as visiting delegate.

The success of the visit to Canada three years ago of British Free Church leaders was ascribed largely to Dr. Moore's business ability, joined with his geniality. The United Church has chosen a same administrator who may be expected to carry forward the policy of his predecessor in the chair, Rev. E. H. Oliver, D.D., whose catholic spirit, evangelical passion and gifts of leadership made a great contribution to both church and national life during his term of office.

COLONEL J. S. HARVEY

Those who knew Colonel J. S. Harvey, and their number in this quarter of the Dominion was very large, admired him always as a warm-hearted and congenial companion and as one who took a lively interest in a variety of matters. A native son of the Island—for he was born in Nanaimo—practically all his life was spent in this vicinity. In 1914 and 1915 he saw service in the Great War, during which his health became impaired. Returning home, unfit for overseas service, he received the appointment of officer in command of the Esquimalt Military Hospital, and later was given control of all hospitals for returned men in the province. In this position he was very popular and showed a high degree of efficiency in the discharge of his duties.

Colonel Harvey lived in retirement at Knapp Island for eight years past, but by frequent visits to Victoria he kept in touch with his many friends. He had a most likeable personality and was widely esteemed. Very deep sympathy will go out to his widow and son who survive.

STAMP DUTY ON CHEQUES

There is a very lax habit among those with banking accounts in their failure to affix excise stamps, or ordinary postage stamps for that matter, to cheques which they issue. By now it ought to be appreciated that on all cheques above $5, and up to $100, it is necessary to affix a three-cent stamp, and on all cheques above $100, a six-cent stamp. If this is not known sufficiently widely the fault is due to lack of advertising of budgetary changes by the Dominion Government. The truth is that it is carelessness and a slipshod manner of doing business which is responsible for the omission of stamps on cheques; sometimes that omission is regarded as a piece of smartness by account holders, who say to themselves they will make the recipients of debts due pay the tax to the Government for having them paid. That is an immoral and an illegal act. The law provides for a penalty up to $50 for failure to affix the amount of the excise duty on cheques, and it is the issuer of such cheques upon whom the obligation rests.

Mr. P. G. Wodehouse, the humorous novelist, says he will never again write for the "movies" not even if he is offered enough dollars to put Britain back on the gold standard. Mr. Wodehouse has a big enough field of operation of his own without bothering about Hollywood.

ORCHARD IN NATAL

Have you noted
Late in Winter
When the hills are tawny-
With the grasses amber-throated,
And the trees' dull olive green;
How the shadows
And the mist
Are a tender amethyst,
And the sky's a polished turquoise?
Have you seen
How the earliest of peaches,
In a dream of springtime's kiss,
Has awakened with the bias,
And is flushing to the skies
In a slender fan of bloom,
—Purple stem and rose blossom—
Against the turquoise airy sheen?

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

The ruling passion, be it what it will,
This ruling passion conquers reason still.
—Pope

After reading the Letters to the Editor in the paper this morning and pondering over the various movements throughout the world which have been started for the purpose of "uplifting" humanity, we thought of a rather pregnant sentence we remembered reading in one of the books of the late R. D. Blackmore, known chiefly as the author of "Lorna Doone." In the matter of the quality of books, as in many other matters, we are not orthodox. The vast majority of readers, and indeed we believe a majority of the literary critics, believe that "Lorna Doone" is the great creator's masterpiece. We do not believe that—for the reason that we have read some of Mr. Blackmore's books which gave us greater pleasure, and from which we derived more profit, than from reading "Lorna Doone."

The pregnant sentence which we remembered reading we read in a book which probably has been very little read in comparison with the acknowledged masterpiece. It was to the effect that the ruling passion of men and women is not one usually attributed to creatures of the human species and is common to animals of all known species, such as love, hatred, anger, lust, and others which were designated but which we have forgotten. The author said in his book that the ruling passion of men and women at all stages of their lives was the desire of possession, or ownership.

One of the most attractive characters in the book was a very small girl who when attracted by certain things which possessed no apparent attractions determinedly appropriated those things and stuck to them like a limpet to a rock. Now it appears to us that the juvenile passion thus portrayed is an indication of the reason why one or two of the social and economic movements which are being vigorously expounded and advocated at the present day, and which have been expounded and advocated, and even temporarily established, in other days, are not likely to be and never can be successful.

The instinct of ownership was implanted in the nature of men thousands and thousands of years ago, and it is the basis of the determined men, defying all opposition and fighting for their own hands, established habitations in caves, or possibly up in trees, took out themselves wives in accordance with the social procedure and habits of the times, produced families and added to their material possessions after the manner of the times. We suppose the stronger the cave men the more commodious or capacious his cave, or the more powerful or enterprising the tree man the higher and more spreading his tree, and we may assume that the motto of those ancient dictators was "what we have we hold," for the principles of ownership, the rights of property and individual freedom to do whatever he willed with his own were first established in those far distant days.

Of course it will be argued that mankind has progressed since those barbarous times; that an age of darkness has been succeeded by an era of civilization and light. That is true, but it is not also true as suggested by the practical as well as the imaginative author that the primitive instinct of ownership and possession still persists? Modern society has adopted this primitive instinct or principle in laws established for the purpose of protecting the individual in his rights of ownership and possession of material things and also in his right of possession of that vital thing, his own life. Order and harmony is the unalterable law of the universe in which men live. Why should not order and harmony rather than chaos and disorder be the law of mankind in that part of the universe in which the lives of men are ordered?

We assume it will be conceded that the Christian religion has been the most potent factor in the promotion of what we call modern civilization. In another book, much more widely read than the books of any author, ancient or modern, it is stated that the early Christians tested the principle of ownership and possession by "having all things in common." That experiment in communism failed as diametrically as many other experiments, some of them tried in the Province of British Columbia, failed. Religious enthusiasm was not so potent in the promotion of social reform as the Old Adam was in killing it and compelling an immediate reversion to the old order.

Of course that which modern dreamers of reforms call "the system" is not perfect. It is subject to abuses, and even to injustices; but these evils cannot be eradicated. The greatest deception of the human mind in Christ's day was that a mere ascent to the truth constituted righteousness. In all human experience a theoretical knowledge of the truth has been proved to be insufficient for the saving of the soul. It does not bring forth the fruits of righteousness. A jealous regard for what is termed theological truth, often accompanied a hatred of genuine truth as made manifest in life. The darkest chapters of history are burdened with the record of crimes committed by bigoted religionists. The Pharisees claimed to be children of Abraham and boasted of their possession of the truth of God. Their advantages did not preserve them from selfishness, malignity, greed for gain and the basest hypocrisy. They thought themselves the greatest religionists of the world, but their so-called orthodox led them to crucify the Lord of Glory.

The same danger exists today. Many take it for granted that they from the system by a reversion to the system of the cave or the tree man, which seems to be the objective of agitators in whom the instinct of ownership or possession has been perverted by a worse passion—that of envy of possessions acquired by other people, at least for the most part, by industry, patience and perseverance. No reforms of permanent value can be wrought by violence.

We allow to the Editor with our sincere regret the space available and address of the writer. This rule admits of no exception.

MR. RAMSAY MACDONALD

Sir.—The expression "anti-MacDonald complex," used by Mr. Jull in today's issue of your paper, would appear to indicate a complete misunderstanding of the correspondence and editorials published on this subject. When any citizen seeks for, and attains, a responsible position in the public affairs of his country, drawing a salary from public funds supplied by the tax-paying electorate, he automatically accepts their right and duty of criticism, which should not be looked upon as personal to the man, but as impersonally directed to his method of guiding our national policy of state, when carrying out those policies on which he is elected. When such criticism narrows down from a national to the individual stage, it still itself by rejecting "the substance for the shadow," submerging the broad issues involved.

The King, being a constitutional ruler, cannot, by any stretch of imagination, be "poled apart in political views" from his Prime Minister; and is automatically eliminated from the realm of politics by British custom, based on tradition of royal sovereignty to act as arbitrator between conflicting political parties, with complete impartiality, and satisfaction to all concerned. The suggestion that we should refrain from criticism of Great Britain's Prime Minister because of an alleged "warm friendship" with our King, is about as reasonable as the implication of snobishness conveyed as objecting to criticism of the Kaiser, on the ground that he is a grandson of the late Queen Victoria! R. W. MACINTYRE, 2319 Cook Street, Victoria, B.C., September 29, 1932.

MR. RAMSAY MACDONALD

Sir.—Most of your correspondents, who have dealt on the past errors of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, seem to ignore one important fact. Namely, that apart from his radicalism and free trade convictions, the outstanding feature of a very remarkable career has been a consistent championship of the cause of peace.

In August, 1914, as perhaps never before, the call to arms sounded loud, clear and imperative in English ears and re-echoed throughout the Empire. Writing from memory I have the names of two prominent politicians (other than Mr. MacDonald) who were against England going to war. Mr. John Morley and Mr. John Burns, both members of the Liberal Cabinet. They resigned on the outbreak of war. Mr. MacDonald, as your correspondents have shown, persisted in his opposition, a course of action that incurred the bitter resentment of his countrymen. By this persistence, knowing full well the consequences he regarded his political future, because he chose to be faithful to lifelong ideals. That is a fair statement of the case against the accused.

The Rhyming Optimist

A POTENT SPELL
A little hope, a little cheer
To bless the busy day;
Ah, what a potent spell is here
To charm dark fears away!
As swiftly as the passing wind,
So runs time's caravan,
Then why not labor to be kind
In every way we can?

MANITOBA DEFALCATIONS

Sir.—Referring to Mr. Sanders' remarks in regard to the Christianization of Mr. Machray, I would say that he has sadly confused genuine Christianity with the truth into the practical life of the man called Christianity which we are sorry to say is so prevalent in the world today. Mr. Sanders speaks only of those who have given a mere assent to the truth, for surely we cannot believe that the persecutions that he refers to for certain there is no excuse for sinning and the tempters' agency is not to be accounted an excuse for one wrong act. Satan is a subtle being who hears of professing followers of Christ making excuses for their deformity of character. It is the excuse that leads to sin.

Although there may be a tainted, corrupted atmosphere around us, we need not breathe it; we may live in the pure air of heaven. We may close every door to impure imaginings and unholy thoughts by lifting the soul into the presence of God through sincere prayer. Those whose hearts are open to receive the support and blessing of God will walk in a holier atmosphere than that of earth, and will have constant communion with heaven. We may keep so near to God that in every unexpected trial our thoughts will turn to Him as naturally as the flower turns to the sun.

The greatest deception of the human mind in Christ's day was that a mere ascent to the truth constituted righteousness. In all human experience a theoretical knowledge of the truth has been proved to be insufficient for the saving of the soul. It does not bring forth the fruits of righteousness. A jealous regard for what is termed theological truth, often accompanied a hatred of genuine truth as made manifest in life. The darkest chapters of history are burdened with the record of crimes committed by bigoted religionists. ALASKAN DOGS AT JUNGFRAU

Alaskan dogs which were taken to Europe to act in motion pictures, have been purchased by the railway which runs up the Jungfrau, in Switzerland, and with others from Greenland and Siberia will draw sledges which carry visitors over the snowfields and glaciers in Summer. Their home is at the terminus at Jungfraujoch, and so well have the canines from the various countries fared that they are declared to be the happiest pack in the world, even if they live above the clouds. The railway up the Jungfrau is one of the greatest achievements of Swiss engineers. It carries travelers through hour-long tunnels bored through rock 10,000 feet above the level of the sea.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of September 30, 1882)

A four-mile foot race has been arranged between Outland and Nerves for $100, to take place on October 15. Outland also challenges Cook for a $500-a-week event, to take place on October 15, with the side bet of $500 and $100, with the challenge standing until the end of the week.

The attendance at the Driving Park yesterday numbered about 400 persons, among whom were many ladies. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor visited the track; but the race was not of a character to create much interest. The one attractive feature of the present show is the superior character of the fireworks on the grounds. Results of the show will be announced today by the judges.

John Gilmour has sold his team of thoroughbred colts to F. Reynolds for city use and will return home today.

The St. Barnabas finished discharging cargo yesterday evening and will leave at 7 o'clock tonight for Nanaimo, Whang and way ports. The St. G. W. Elmer, Captain Hayward, will leave at 5 p.m. today for San Francisco direct. Mail and express close at 5 o'clock.

The Beaux-Arts take great pleasure in having this opportunity of introducing Walter Buxbaum in his first concert in Canada. Mr. Buxbaum is a graduate of the Vienna Academy of Music and Dramatic Art, and in Vienna had the opportunity of being associated with such musicians as Richard Strauss, Leopold Godowsky, Maria Jeritz, and in the United States, with Bernardo Molinari, the famous conductor of the Hollywood Bowl concerts, Rudolph Gans and Vladimir Horowitz, the famous pianist.

FINE PROGRAMME
The programme which Mr. Buxbaum will present here will be interesting, and several numbers will be played for the first time in Victoria. There will be numbers by Bach, Handel, Schumann, Schubert, Chopin, and Liszt. He will play the Strauss Viennese waltzes and also numbers by Rachmaninoff.

Mr. Buxbaum has played before crowded auditoriums including Albert Hall, London, with his father, the famous cellist, Frederic Buxbaum, head of the Buxbaum Quartette, of Vienna. Mr. Buxbaum has met numerous friends and has been entertained at many homes in the city. As much enthusiasm has been aroused by this young artist in Victoria, it will be advisable to obtain tickets as soon as possible.

Sketch Club Members See Artists' Work

Members of the Sketch Club of the Island Arts and Crafts were privileged this week to examine the fine collection of pictures at the residence of C. F. Todd, St. Charles Street. They were received by T. S. Gore, Miss Alexander and Miss Woodward, and thoroughly enjoyed the many fine paintings, both in oils and water colors, which were the more attractive for their gracious setting and splendid lighting. Among the oils, "The Captured Dispatch," by Edgar Bundy, A.R.A., and "Treason," by A. D. McCormack, R.I., were perhaps the most arresting. Of the water colors, "The Scarecrow," John Parker, R.W.S., "Sheep," by M. Steelink, charmingly pastoral, "The Khan Khalil," W. Tyndale, "Blowing Bubbles," A. Harlamoff, "Fort of Venice," P. J. Aldridge, and delightful examples of the work of H. Kern, Edward Goodall, Julius Olson, R.A., T. B. Hardy, R.B.A., Jose Weiss, Bell-Smith, were greatly admired. Water colors by S. MacLure, and T. S. Gore were among the work of local artists, and some fine etchings and a group of bronzes further interested the guests.

There will be no meeting of the Sketch Club on Monday next as all are preparing work for the forthcoming annual exhibition of the Island Arts and Crafts, to be held in Belmont House. The committee announces that exhibits in water colors, oils, and crafts of all kinds, will be received on Tuesday afternoon from 1 until 5 o'clock. The space allotted to crafts this year is exceptionally ample and desirable, and it is hoped that craft workers will exhibit freely and in great variety. It is not necessary to be a member of the Arts and Crafts in order to exhibit.

BEAUTY EXPERT IN LOCAL STORE
Miss Mary Rasmussen, Famous Specialist, Arrives at Hudson's Bay for Three Days

Housed in a department store, instead of a Grecian temple, the modern counterpart of the cult of beauty will be represented in Victoria by Miss Mary Rasmussen, beauty specialist, who has arrived at the Hudson's Bay Company.

The latest scientific knowledge of beauty, and care of the feminine complexion, will be imparted to the women of Victoria by the beauty expert, who has just returned from a two-week stay in New York, where she familiarized herself with the "new" discoveries and developments in the field of facial care, under the tutelage of Miss Dorothy Gray.

This woman is, in truth, a missionary of that ancient cult of beauty, imparting accurate information and news of hygienic and chemical preparations instead of the mystic rites of the ancient.

LATEST STYLES
On her semi-annual visit, the beauty expert attended the theatre, the smarter shops, the leading restaurants and night clubs, and gathered beauty information first-hand by observation and comparison. She is prepared not only to give advice on the care of the face and figure, but also to tell the women of the city about the latest styles in make-up, clothes and accessories.

In studying the latest developments in all that pertains to feminine pulchritude, this beauty consultant was careful to adapt new ideas to the needs of her clientele. Her knowledge of "what is what" in Paris, New York, and this city, is invaluable. Miss Rasmussen will be at the Hudson's Bay store today, tomorrow and Saturday.

Engagements
GUSSIN—BROWN
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown, of Hoover Street, Nelson, announce the engagement of their second daughter, Dorothy Mary, to Dr. Jules Philip Gussin, of Nelson, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gussin, of Winnipeg, the wedding to take place in the latter part of October.

TO HOLD RECEPTION
The ladies of the First Spiritual Church will hold a reception in the Burns Hall, Douglas Street, this evening in honor of two newly-married couples, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Muir (nee Scott) and Mr. and Mrs. J. Venosa (nee Robinson). There will be music and dancing and refreshments will be served. Mrs. Hannah Wall, who is celebrating her forty-fourth year in connection with the church, will also be a guest of honor.

RICHARD DIX IS HERO AT EMPIRE

"The Roar of the Dragon" Is Thrilling Tale of Chinese Banditry in Manchuria

Richard Dix, star of "Cimarron," "Secret Service," and other recent romantic films, has an entirely new kind of role in "The Roar of the Dragon," the dramatic story of turbulent Manchuria, coming to the Empire Theatre today.

In contrast to the rollicking, light-hearted character he usually portrays, Dix is seen as a cynical, disillusioned skipper of the Chinese river service, with little faith in men and none at all in women.

His boat disabled by Chinese bandits, Dix and his varied group of passengers take refuge in a small interior village where they convert a former Mandarin's palace into a stockade. Here, under fire from the bandits and threatened by plague, Dix meets and falls in love with a beautiful Russian woman of mystery. Her calm courage, her willingness to risk the means of survival to remain with him, and her self-sacrifice to a daring leader of the beleaguered refugees.

The romance has as a stirring background the teeming life of a

Irene Dunne and John Boles Star

Two outstanding singing stars featured together in a motion picture—neither sings a note! This is the situation which exists in "The Roar of the Dragon," starring Irene Dunne and John Boles, both of whom have gained fame as singers of unusual ability.

Miss Dunne appeared on the New York stage in many such musical comedies as "Trene" and "Sweetheart Time" and "Showboat," and seemed definitely headed toward the Metropolitan Opera House when she was placed under contract for a motion picture work in Hollywood.

Boles, after several years in musical comedy, made his first big screen hit in the motion picture "The Desert Song," and shortly became established as the screen's leading singer.

Chinese village, torn by civil strife and ruthless bandit raids. A graphic picture is presented of the chaotic conditions of the Orient today.

PLAYHOUSE "Beauty and the Boss," starring Marian Marsh, is now at the Playhouse Theatre, featuring a strong cast of prominent players of stage and screen. Marian Marsh and Warren William play the lead roles of secretarial Cinderella and high-powered financial genius, respectively. Supporting players include Charles Butterworth, of the famous comedy, David Manners, Frederick Kerr, Mary Donnan, Yola D'Avril and Lillian Bond.

COLUMBIA Ralph Lewis, veteran of the screen, who played the role of the judge in Columbia's dramatic picture, "The Defender," starring Edmund Lowe, has an important character part in "McKenna of the Mounted," a Columbia Buck Jones picture having the action of colorful Canadian Mounted Police for its background. The picture is showing at the Columbia Theatre.

DOMINION Maurice Chevalier, THEATRE star of Rouben Mamoulian's "Love Me Tonight," which is now showing at the Dominion Theatre, left the United States for a vacation at his home near Cannes, in Southern France, immediately work on the film was completed. Chevalier has spent each summer there for the last several years. This year he will remain until early fall when he will return again to Hollywood. Jeanette MacDonald, who has played opposite Chevalier in previous pictures, and his feminine lead again in "Love Me Tonight," Charles Ruggles, Charles Butterworth and Myrna Loy head the supporting cast.

IF I WERE YOU

By PG Wodehouse

CHAPTER XI
"How?" asked Mr. Waddington. "There are a hundred ways," said Sir Herbert. "I'll make him ride." "I'll take him to good classical concerts," said Lady Lydia. "I'll make his life a misery about clothes," said Freddie.

"Singsby shall raise his eyebrow and look through him," said Violet. Freddie pointed out the objection to this suggestion.

"He won't mind that. Singsby's his uncle." "Then engage a butler who can look through him," said Violet.

"I see," he said. "It's a splendid idea." "But not very sporting, what?" said Tony.

"Sporting?" Lady Lydia was shocked. "My dear boy! Mr. Price is staying here, he won't be able to drive me back."

"I'll take you," said Tony, his gloom lighting for the first time. "Are you all ready?"

"I suppose I had better say goodbye to Mrs. Price." "All right, I'll meet you at the back entrance in ten minutes," said Tony.

"Thank you, Lord Drotlich." "Call me Syd," said Tony. Lady Lydia turned to Polly.

"Well, Miss Brown," after said, "I can't tell you how grateful we are for your suggestion."

"A pipkin," agreed Freddie. "Thank you, Lady Lydia," said Polly.

A reverent hush followed her departure. "What a girl!" breathed Sir Herbert devoutly.

"Good brains there," said Freddie. "I don't know when I've seen a girl that impressed me more," said Tony.

Violet looked at him oddly. "That's what the suggestion you conveyed," she said.

In the slight pause of discomfort which followed this remark, Syd came through the window.

"Now," said Syd. He looked suspiciously about him. "Can't the orchestra bin a bit augmented since I was in here last?"

"My fiancée, Miss Waddington. My fiancée, Mr. Waddington. May I present Lord Drotlich?"

Syd seemed a little startled. "Ullio!" he said. "You decided to come in, then?"

"Now, I'm going to clear out and leave you in possession. He pulled out a bunch of keys. "This gold master key fits your dressing cases."

YANKEES MAKE IT TWO STRAIGHT OVER CUBS

CUBS STILL CONFIDENT OF WINNING FLAG

Manager Grimm Thinks Team Will Do Better at Chicago Park

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP).—Vernon "Lefty" Gomez weighed himself carefully, found he had lost a precious four pounds in the process of standing the Cubs on their collective ears today, and admitted he was "mighty nervous" when he first stepped into the box.

"Sure I was nervous," said the slim Castilian as the club trainer massaged that valuable left arm of his. "Who wouldn't be. It was the first time I was ever out there in a world series."

"But it didn't last long. After a few minutes I got to liking it, and in the second inning I suddenly got all my stuff."

But Charley Grimm, manager of the beaten Cubs, had a different explanation than that. He was lavishing his praise of the youthful southpaw.

AUSTRALIA WINS FROM ENGLAND

Capture Exhibition Cricket Match by 100 Runs—Pendrigh and Tyrell Star

"Australia" easily defeated "England" in a cricket match played yesterday afternoon at Beacon Hill Park. The Aussies scored 202 runs for four wickets and then demolished the Englishmen for 102. The batting of Pendrigh, who scored 97, and Tyrell, who hit up 80 for the winners, featured the match. The experiment of playing on a turf wicket instead of the usual matting wicket proved to be a big success.

"Batting" Jack Andrews was the high scorer for the losers, hitting up 28 before he was run out. Barber, Starkey also batted well and contributed a useful 25. Baker and Tyrell shone on the attack for the winners, taking four and three wickets, respectively, cheaply.

With hopes of raising enough funds to erect a grandstand and to make other improvements on the Macaulay property in James Bay, members of the Playing Fields Association will stage a monster dance on November 25. Members of the executive met last night at the City Hall and, after a short session, decided that this was the best means of financing the new park, which will be held at 9 o'clock and concluding at 1 a.m. Charles F. Banfield, president; V. Denon, secretary; Russell Kerr, president of the Victoria Rugby Union; Alderman John A. Worthington, chairman of the parks committee; and V. Peberdy, of the Victoria Cricket League, were chosen to go ahead and make arrangements for the dance. Further plans will be drafted by the committee at a meeting to be held next Thursday evening in the offices of Kerr & Stephenson at 5 o'clock. Representatives of all branches of sport are asked to attend and make any suggestions which would assist the committee.

MRS. GEDDES IS CHOSEN CAPTAIN

Appointed Head of Macaulay Point Golf Club at Ninth Annual Meeting

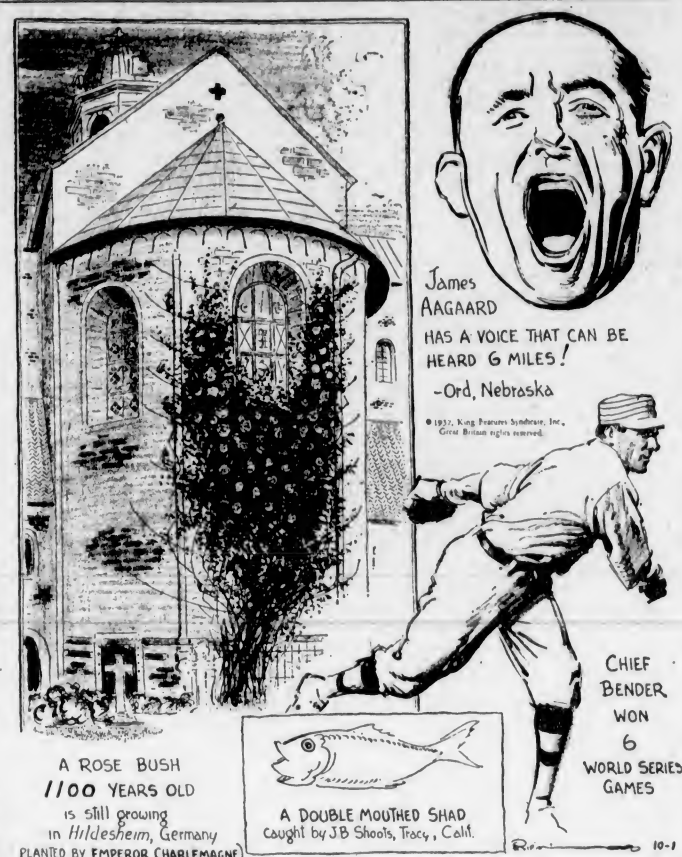

Mrs. Alex Geddes was chosen women's captain of the Macaulay Point Golf Club at the ninth annual meeting, held in the clubhouse on Wednesday. The newly-chosen skipper succeeds Mrs. H. H. Lively, who has held the position since last autumn. Miss Clare Allen was the choice for the secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Silburn, Mrs. Clarence Brown and Mrs. Terry Peers were elected members of the executive. Following the election of officers, discussion arose on whether or not the club should affiliate with the Canadian Women's Golf Union. Mrs. Lively, the chairman, brought up the question, and Mrs. Geddes was appointed to go into the matter and report back at a future meeting. The women decided to start the Dunlop Cup competition next week. Members wishing to compete are asked to place their names on the bulletin board or communicate with the captain. A vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring officers for their fine work during the year.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
The Smallest American Check—in order to qualify as the smallest check in America, Mr. Harry S. Badger, Atlanta, Georgia, procured an old American copper coin of the face value of one-half cent. The check was actually tendered in payment. If checks were as readily negotiated in India as they are in America, a Hindu could easily beat Mr. Badger's record by tendering a check for one dam, equal in value to one-fourth-eight of a cent.

GAINS GETS CALL OVER RUGIRELLO

British Empire Heavyweight Decisions Italian in Slow Bout

LONDON, Sept. 29 (CP).—Larry Gains, British Empire heavyweight champion and a native of Toronto, gained the decision over Salvatore Rugirello, Italian heavyweight contender, in a twelve-round bout at Albert Hall tonight.

The bout, fought before a large crowd, which included many people prominent in society, was preceded by three preliminaries in which members of Playfair and Brown's touring band of Toronto boxers participated.

In the first, Jack Dane, light-heavy, gained the decision over left-windier Windsor, after six rounds. Jimmy Goodrich, bantamweight, outpointed Tucker, Winchester, and Jackie Johnston.

The Gains-Rugirello fight was a slow affair, several times the crowd roaring "come on, fight!" The Italian was slow and cumbersome. Clinches were frequent and made the spectators impatient. Once or twice Gains was rocked by hard blows, but the Italian was too slow to follow up his advantage.

This made a total of eighteen Club strikeouts in two games. The Cubs of 1929 set the record for whiffing, with fifty victims in five games, so that the current Bruins are setting almost as dubious a pace at the plate.

Warneke went the route, getting better as the game sped along, but his early nervousness and over-anxiety in pitching to the big guns of the Yankee artillery proved his undoing, just as it had for Bush the day before.

The Cub freshman right hander passed Earle Combs and Jole Sewell at the very start of the game and this wildness led to the first pair of Yankee runs. The great Ruth struck out, missing a slow curve for the third strike, but Gehrig's first single brought Combs across and Bill Dickey's blow down the first base line failed Sewell.

STRATEGY FAILS
A pass to Ruth at the start of the third, after he had worked carefully and at length on the big slugger, again put Warneke in a hole, with one out. Gehrig's smash almost knocked Herman down as it went for a hit. Lazzeri's infield out advanced both runners. Dickey then was purposely passed but Chapman's single spoiled this strategy, scoring two more runs.

The clouting combination of Gehrig and Dickey, helped by Lazzeri's infield out, produced the fifth Yankee run in the fifth inning. Thereafter Warneke allowed only two safe blows in three innings.

The Cubs saved Warneke and put down Yankee scoring chances by pulling off no less than four double plays, in which the defensive work of Gehrig, Hartnett and Bill Herman was featured.

Lou Gehrig Gets Three Singles to Drive Home Like Number of Runs—Chapman Sends Two Across With Single in Third—Cubs Make Four Double Plays—50,000 Attend

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Successfully pursuing their policy of base hit economy and making the most of opportunities, the New York Yankees captured their second straight game from Chicago Cubs today, 5 to 2, and moved rapidly toward their goal of a fourth world baseball championship.

In a rapid-fire game that was as swift and sparkling by comparison with the drab opener as the weather was brighter and snappier, Vernon "Lefty" Gomez, slim Spanish southpaw, subdued the National League champions while his youthful right-hand rival, Lonnie Warneke, failed in a gallant attempt to check the rush of the Yankees.

Yankees collected nothing but singles today. Nearest they came to finding the outer ramparts was when Babe Ruth pumped one base blow off the right field bleachers. But they made their ten blows count, while also taking advantage of Warneke's early wildness. Lurping Lou Gehrig, whose home runs that look as solid as a double, were the Yankees' American League champions toward their opening victory.

With two out in the third, Bill Dickey, slugging Yankee backstop, was purposely passed to fill the bases on the theory that the first Chapman would be a less difficult individual to handle. Ben responded by smacking the first pitched ball over as solid as a double, scoring Ruth and Gehrig, who with proved to be the deciding runs.

The second successive victory for the Yankees, their 10th in a row over a stretch of three world-champion battles, sent them on to Chicago tonight with an advantage that looked as solid as the Rock of Gibraltar. The American League champions left for the West, where the series will be resumed with the third game Saturday, confident they will add to baseball history with another clean sweep over National League rivals.

Two more victories will clinch the title and the big end of the money.

The Cubs, their two best pitching bets, Guy Bush and Warneke, beaten and their defense somewhat rattled, must make a great stand at once if they are to prolong the series beyond the fifth game. Three games are scheduled in Chicago. The way the Yankees looked today there will be no more occasion for baseball on their home grounds this year.

STRIKES OUT EIGHT
Gomez, fast and resourceful, was hit by a breaky but proved just as baffling as Red Ruffing when it came to checking the most threatening Cub gestures. The slim southpaw was touched for nine safe blows, including two doubles and a triple, by Kiki Cuyler, but he collected eight strikeouts victims with a bewildering assortment of stuff. This made a total of eighteen Club strikeouts in two games. The Cubs of 1929 set the record for whiffing, with fifty victims in five games, so that the current Bruins are setting almost as dubious a pace at the plate.

Warneke went the route, getting better as the game sped along, but his early nervousness and over-anxiety in pitching to the big guns of the Yankee artillery proved his undoing, just as it had for Bush the day before.

The Cub freshman right hander passed Earle Combs and Jole Sewell at the very start of the game and this wildness led to the first pair of Yankee runs. The great Ruth struck out, missing a slow curve for the third strike, but Gehrig's first single brought Combs across and Bill Dickey's blow down the first base line failed Sewell.

STRATEGY FAILS
A pass to Ruth at the start of the third, after he had worked carefully and at length on the big slugger, again put Warneke in a hole, with one out. Gehrig's smash almost knocked Herman down as it went for a hit. Lazzeri's infield out advanced both runners. Dickey then was purposely passed but Chapman's single spoiled this strategy, scoring two more runs.

The clouting combination of Gehrig and Dickey, helped by Lazzeri's infield out, produced the fifth Yankee run in the fifth inning. Thereafter Warneke allowed only two safe blows in three innings.

The Cubs saved Warneke and put down Yankee scoring chances by pulling off no less than four double plays, in which the defensive work of Gehrig, Hartnett and Bill Herman was featured.

HEAVYWEIGHT FIGHTERS TO BE KEPT BUSY

Schmeling to Meet Winner of Baer-Carnera Battle and Stribling

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The heavyweight division of the fight game has "turned the corner" if the plans mapped out today for Max Schmeling and the remainder of the contenders for Jack Sharkey's championship actually are carried out. Riding the wave of enthusiasm that followed Schmeling's sensational eight-round technical knockout of Mickey Walker last night, Madison Square Garden laid out a programme that will send the former heavyweight titleholder into battle twice before next Summer, when Max, if his success continues, will face Sharkey for the championship for the third time.

The Garden wants to pair Max Baer, lanky California welter, who scored a technical knockout over Tuffy Griffin in Chicago Monday night, while Schmeling was crushing Walker here, against the man mountain of the division, Primo Carnera, in an indoor match for November. Schmeling will meet the winner of this bout here in June, after a Winter warm-up against young Bill Stribling in Miami in February.

Strong Canadian Player Defeats Maureen Orcutt

Toronto Girl Trims U.S. Star 2 and 1 to Enter Last Four—Enid Wilson Loses to Charlotte Ruffing, 1 Up—Mrs. Vare and Miss Van Wie Win

PEABODY, Mass., Sept. 29 (CP).—A golfing tornado struck the women's United States championship tourney today, sweeping away Enid Wilson, the British champion, advancing Ada Mackenzie, of Toronto, who defeated Maureen Orcutt, one of the best in the United States, and just missing Glenna Collett Vare, who has won five of the last ten titles.

The upheaval that ruined Miss Wilson's hopes of taking away the crown was supplied by twenty-two-year-old Charlotte Ruffing, from Short Hills, N.J., who has been playing the game but five years.

Miss Mackenzie, many times Canadian champion, trimmed Miss Orcutt 2 and 1 to enter the semi-finals after playing even golf for thirteen holes. The Canadian girl and her foe, who allowed her twice-held Dominion title to go undefended this year, were the first pair to start this morning and the fight was nip and tuck all the way.

They held all even for thirteen holes, after which the Torontonian's spurt started with a par three on the short fourteenth and she went 1 up. She halved the fifteenth with a six and won the next with a birdie four against a par five. Miss Orcutt gave herself a fifteen-footer after chipping her third onto the seventeenth green and when it stayed out her bid in the thirty-sixth title quest was ended.

LOSES ON LAST HOLE
Miss Glutting matched Miss Wilson's famous long drives, putted as well as she did and on the inward nine chipped away Enid's ambitious plan to duplicate the grand slam made by Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd back in 1906 when that star won both British and American crowns.

Miss Wilson was beaten 1 up, a poor approach shot robbing her of a par four on the home hole that would have squared the match.

Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, was the only one of the four favorites to get an easy passage through the quarter-finals. She stroked into a 3 and 2 decision over Rosalie Knapp, of Glen Head, N.Y.

Peggy Wattles, of Buffalo, gained an early lead on Mrs. Vare with a birdie deuce on the short third, putting her tee shot three feet from the pin.

Glenna started cutting her down on the tenth, getting a birdie with a twelve-foot putt. They won, lost and halved the next three and Mrs. Vare was but one down after she got her par three on the fourteenth. A regular five on the fifteenth, long, set on the course, squared her and she then put together an eagle three and a birdie four to wind up the match.

The semi-final matches tomorrow put Mrs. Vare against Miss Mackenzie and Miss Van Wie against Miss Glutting.

CITY MEMBERS

The two city members of the Legislature resident in Ward Four, J. H. Beatty and H. D. Twigg, addressed the meeting briefly. R. A. Woodson, president of the central executive for the city, offered congratulations to the ward upon the good work it had accomplished during the year.

Mr. Beatty, in a short address, referred to certain criticisms that had been heard with regard to public affairs. He was forced to the opinion that in a number of cases such comment was actuated by selfish motives. It must be remembered, he pointed out, that Dr. Tolmie did not build the P.G.E. that he was not responsible for the Sumas and other wasteful expenditures of public money in land schemes; nor was he the originator of costly roads that were constructed in the province in the last twenty years.

INHERITED BURDENS

The present Government had had to provide for them.

Mr. Beatty said he was prepared to take the Kidd report on its merits. There were recommendations in it that were worth while. He could not agree with the educational recommendation, however.

The position of Dr. Tolmie had been strengthened, he felt, in the country by his unselfish attitude towards public questions.

PRAISES PREMIER

Mr. Twigg said that Dr. Tolmie was facing a sentiment that existed throughout the Empire at this time and one that called for the sinking of extreme partisanship, and substituting therefor a demand for the best thought of all parties in the direction of improving conditions. With real difficulties to face it was not a time for public men to make recriminations against one another.

The Premier deserved the strong support of all in the efforts he was making. Mr. Twigg reviewed the position taken by the Premier looking to the formation of a Union Government after the next election. In the meantime, he said, the present Government was giving its undivided attention to unraveling the great problems before it. These included disposal of the P.G.E. and the unemployment relief.

Aluding to the Kidd report, Mr. Twigg said there was a number of proposals in it that were good in themselves, but which it was impossible at the present time to carry into execution.

Dr. Robt. Norwood

Dead in New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (CP).—The distinguished career of Dr. Robert Norwood, Nova Scotia-born Episcopal rector, poet and leader in thought, was ended by death tonight. He was stricken suddenly by cerebral hemorrhage at his home here and died in less than an hour. He was fifty-eight.

Reading of Dr. Norwood's obituary notice in the St. Bartholomew's Church, on Park Avenue, he had held since May, 1925.

FINED FOR HAULING CATTLE ON SUNDAY

WINNIPEG, Sept. 29 (CP).—Convicted of violating the Lord Day Act by hauling cattle to Winnipeg on Sunday, Moses Galsky, was fined $10 by Magistrate R. B. Graham, in city police court, today. John J. Ludwig was similarly convicted but was let off with a fine of $1.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

Officers Trained
For Positions in
Fisheries ServiceInspectors Must Have Varied Knowledge of Fish
Processing Under New Act—Work
Covers Large Field

Part of the training which the permanent fishery officers in the service of the Dominion Department of Fisheries are required to take consists of instruction to qualify them as inspectors of fish products, and in putting the training to use last year they inspected nearly 250,000 parcels of smoked, pickled and dried fish. This work was done under the Fish Inspection Act, and regulations made under the act, in addition to passing upon the products, the officers inspected the curing plants and the containers used for marketing the output.

They also carried out inspection work under those sections of the Meat and Canned Foods Act and regulations which provide for the inspection of fish canneries and methods of their raw materials and methods, and the products themselves.

All of these inspections, which are part of the regular work of the fishery officers stationed in the areas where the fisheries are administered by the Dominion authorities, have as their purpose, of course, to make certain that the products put upon the market will be of sound quality.

REGULATIONS ALTERED

During the past year, moreover, some of the regulations relating to inspection were altered with a view to making them still more effective, and amendments made to the Fish

Inspection Act at the last session of Parliament and the creation last Spring of a permanent board of experts to inspect all canned salmon put up in British Columbia will also be important factors helping to make the standard of Canadian fish production even higher than it has been hitherto.

The products which come within the provisions of the Fish Inspection Act are pickled herring, smoked round herring, dried herring, pickled alewives or gaspereau, pickled mackerel and pickled salmon, exclusive of milk-cured salmon. Dry-salted herring, however, is processed largely in British Columbia, and up to the greater part of the fish inspected by officers in the course of each year. Virtually all of these herring are exported to the Orient, and during the past drying season, which began in October and continued for several weeks after 1931 ended, the officers inspected more than 185,700 boxes, each box containing 400 pounds of fish.

COURSES REQUIRED

Until a few years ago fish inspection was done by special officers appointed for the purpose from time to time, but it was then decided to place the work in the hands of the department's permanent fishery officers and to require them to take courses of study which would equip them fully for duty of this kind.

In British Columbia before the beginning of the last herring drying season, certain officers who had been selected to act as herring inspectors were given special instruction at the Pacific Biological Station, Nanaimo. Further instruction was given them at the close of the season, and a course of the same kind is being repeated again this year. Early in 1932 all the fishery officers in British Columbia were given a special course at the Nanaimo station covering, chiefly, salmon canning, herring salting, bacteriology and fish biology. On the Atlantic coast the officers were given courses at the Atlantic Fisheries Experimental Station, Halifax, and it was necessary for them to pass examinations at the close of the classes. The course covered both theory and practical fish curing.

ENCOURAGING
FOR NEW LINEBoth Vessels of Canadian Steamships Limited Will Carry Full Cargoes

Off to a good start, with the first ship fully booked, according to reports, and space on the second one being rapidly taken, indications are that the newly-formed British Canadian Steamships, Ltd., operating a monthly service to North China ports, has already found a welcome response from British Columbia shippers.

The new line, which was recently granted a subsidy by the Government to aid in the development of the lumber trade with China, is operated by J. Coughlan & Son, Ltd., under the management of J. McInnes.

St. City of Vancouver is the first ship to go on berth. She will load at Mainland and Island ports, starting about October 1. Her cargo will include 3,000 tons grain, 3,000,000 feet lumber, and approximately 250,000 feet of cottonwood logs, the latter consigned to Chinese factories for the manufacture of matches.

The vessel, commanded by Captain M. Buchanan, is expected to clear for Shanghai and Taku Bar about the middle of October.

There will be two sailings for the month by the new company's ships. St. City of Victoria is scheduled to start loading for North China on October 15. Both of these ships were built in the Coughlan yards, and are owned and operated from Vancouver. The November sailing will be made by a chartered vessel, and as conditions improve the fleet will be added to and the service increased from once a month to a more frequent schedule as requirements demand.

Ruth Alexander
Docked on Time;
Cargo Ship Due

Shortly before 11 o'clock last night, the Pacific Steamship Line's St. Ruth Alexander arrived alongside Rithet Pier from San Francisco. Encountering fine weather on the coast, the liner was less than an hour behind schedule. She disembarked Island and Mainland passengers here, and discharged King Brothers' local shipping agents, stated yesterday afternoon. The Point Bonita is docking at Rithet Pier and will discharge general cargo from the West Indies before proceeding to Seattle.

From Gulf of Mexico and West Indies ports, the Gulf Pacific Line (West Indies Service) St. Point Bonita is due here tomorrow morning. King Brothers' local shipping agents, stated yesterday afternoon. The Point Bonita is docking at Rithet Pier and will discharge general cargo from the West Indies before proceeding to Seattle.

A boy was taken by his mother to see "the pictures." The film was a pathetic one, in which an ancient woman, cast off by her children, was seen trading wearily towards the workhouse. The mother was affected visibly.

Her son gave her an encouraging nod. "It's all right, mummy, I won't let you go to the workhouse like that."

"Won't you dear? What will you do, then?"

"I'll get you a taxi," said the young man, kindly.

What Today Means

"LIBRA"
If September 30 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7:15 a.m. to 8:30 a.m., from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. The danger periods are from 10:25 a.m. to 12:05 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 6:50 p.m.
September 30, according to astrological indications, promises to be, from the commercial viewpoint, an uneventful and a quiet day. The prevailing influences denote unexpected trips into the Land of Romance, where long-dreamed-of rewards await those who have courage and tenacity of purpose.
A child on this September 30 will be endowed with a robust constitution, a loving disposition and a desire, as well as a will, to succeed. These inherent gifts will serve it in good stead in its maturity, and its horoscope denotes a career of usefulness as well as profitable achievement.
You, if born on September 30, are rather weak in character, and

READING ROOMS AID UNEMPLOYED

Montreal Citizens' Recreation Centre Similar to Victoria Institution

In view of the existence here of the Citizens' Recreation Room (a pamphlet entitled "The Day Shelter for Unemployed Men, Montreal—A Social Experiment" is of great interest. This pamphlet, which has reached the secretary of the local shelter, contains an account of the founding of a similar shelter in Montreal in the Fall of 1931, and the results of its activities up to the summer of this year.

Briefly, the institution was the result of a movement inaugurated by Captain William Bowie, executive secretary of the Montreal Parks and Playgrounds Association. The building secured was from two to four stories high, built around four sides of a block, with an open court in the centre, and was formerly occupied as a school, with the court as a playground for the pupils. Incidentally this court provided playing space which was utilized by the men for baseball and other games in fine weather. This property was owned by the Montreal Tramways Company, and it not only donated the use of the building rent free, but spent $1,200 in putting it in good order.

5,000 MEN A DAY
The attendance grew rapidly after the opening and reached a total of 5,000 men a day. Three very large rooms were provided with tables and chairs for cards, checkers and other like games; two huge reading rooms, three rooms for educational classes and a dormitory for the staff, which numbered thirty-five in all. The theatrical entertainments and concerts were all put on by the men themselves, with the exception of concerts on Sunday afternoons, which were provided by Montreal talent.

Only a very small percentage of the men took advantage of the educational facilities provided, and the most popular branches were the lessons in elementary English, which appealed to foreigners, and that of automotive engineering, graduates from which were, in many cases, able to secure jobs.

DEPORTMENT GOOD
With regard to the conduct of the men, Montreal's experience was evidently similar to that of Victoria, as the pamphlet speaks of the "quiet and excellent deportment" of the men.

Under the heading of "Services to the Community" the pamphlet states that the shelter kept between 4,000 and 5,000 men off the streets all winter; it made these men, who, through no fault of their own, were unable to obtain work, feel that they were being decently treated by the community, and it greatly reduced vagrancy and crime in the city.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

MIDDLE AGE, OVERWEIGHT, AND HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE
Controlling the weight, after middle life, keeping it within proper limits, is one of the most effective ways of preventing high blood pressure.

About 66 per cent of all people over forty years of age and ten pounds or more overweight have high blood pressure; that is, two of every three.

Now there was a time when it was thought that in overweight people the processes did not work as fast or use up food as rapidly as in those of normal weight. Tests show, however, that the processes in those who are overweight do not work any slower than in those of normal weight.

What does this mean?
It simply means that those who are overweight eat more food than they need.

Now these overweight individuals with high blood pressure look well and feel well, but the death rate is increased in proportion to the excess in weight; experience and insurance records teach that.

Of course heredity predisposes to overweight and high blood pressure, and this point must always be remembered.

Dr. V. C. Rowland, Cleveland, points out that a balanced reducing diet, intelligently supervised by a physician doing this special work, is the largest or best single factor in the control of certain types of high blood pressure and the symptoms which accompany it, such as indigestion, gall bladder disease and ulcer of the stomach and of first part of small intestine.

Treatment by diet in which foods poor instead of rich in food units is efficient and practicable.

The thought, then, is that as we approach middle age, we do less physical work, take less exercise than in our younger years, that we are now in a position to take things a little easier, mentally and physically, and have a little more money with which to purchase the rich foods that we remember that considerable danger to health and happiness is at hand. We will put on weight and two out of three of us will have increased or high blood pressure, thus increasing the liability to the above-mentioned ailments.

Cutting down on the food intake, as suggested by Dr. Rowland, is the simplest and most effective method of preventing overweight and high blood pressure.

MOVIE VARSITY FOR LONDON

Plans for the vast People's Cinema University, which Sir James Marchant and Sir Oswald Stoll propose to establish in London, have been completed, and construction is expected to be under way shortly. The project is the result of the British Cinema Commission, formed in 1929 to investigate the use of motion pictures in education. The university will consist of a central building near the heart of the city, and it will include theatres and lecture halls equipped with sound film apparatus and a Zeiss planetarium. In the lecture halls will be shown instructive films made by exhibits on the various subjects dealt with. The university will also include a public theatre for exhibiting news and foreign films in their original language.
